COMPANY OVERVIEW

AINautics is the national drone workforce development and training institution. Led by Marine Corps veteran Taz Little, we have taught drone programs since 2017, starting in South Carolina classrooms and now delivering programs in all 50 states for K12 schools, higher education institutions, government agencies and industry.

We came to government work from the field. The instructors who teach your people are the pilots who fly the missions, and every program runs on NDAA-aligned aircraft with no foreign-made platforms.

CORE CAPABILITIES

UAS training and Part 107 certification
Scheduled courses, agency and workforce-board cohorts, train-the-trainer, simulator stations and a mobile flight lab.

Inspection, mapping and asset monitoring
Photogrammetry and mapping, tower and roof inspection, facility and infrastructure monitoring, thermal imaging, agricultural spray (Part 137 in process).

Public safety and counter-UAS support
Law-enforcement and emergency drone training, school-security drone programs, drone detection for correctional and county facilities, incident aerial support.

UAS integration, R&D and teaming
NDAA-compliant platforms, Part 108 BVLOS readiness, simulation and autonomy partners, SBIR/STTR and DIU teaming as a small-business subcontractor.
